IRON BRICKS. CONFIDENTIAL.

NASHVILLE, DEC. 22d, 1860. To the Editors of the Daily Patriot:

GENTLEMEN :- I find in the Republican Banner daily Journal of this date, a communication addressed to me by my distinguished friend, the Hon. JOHN HAPPY, the Pioneer of Played-out Politics and Lager-beer Literature in the Southwest. With more than the amount of defference to his enlightened opinion that is guaranteed to him by the Consti of the late but unlamented South Carolina I am inclined to think that his communication had been more appropriately addressed had it been address d to you, since I was not at all instrumental in producing the causes which called tt forth. Nothing is more re sensitive feelings than to see my nome in the being ann unced, the Board therefore resolved, deats will fully and taithfully sustain me in voluntarily and namus muringly permitted and purity of life, has been summoned from their that outrage upon my sensibilities I have midst. sometimes been dragged into the newspapers, as it were, but my name has never appeared in print with either my knowledge or con-

In a recent issue of your valuable daily. you remarked that you had received two communications for my illustrations friend your Military Editor, asking his opinion on the right of Secession, &c.; and that one of them was signed by the Damon and PTTHIAS of modern times, Messrs. I can best accomplish that object by lewing him speak for himselt, which he can do much better than it can be done for him. After observing that your statement above referred to may lend the public to infer that he had address d me a communication for the purpose of getting his name into the public prints, he proceeds

I lose no time in unbesitatingly affirming that you, sir, have been egregiously dapen. and if you received such communication, the signatures were ficticious; as my autograph is never written save by my most intimate friends. With respect to the respectable Mr. Keg, I have nothing to say, having ceased to ssociate with that individual since the other day, when in an unguard d mom at he gave vent to an expression of devotion to his country, and especially to the Union. So far from dabbling in the politics of the day, I never even read anything political in the papers save the patent medicine advertisements. You should know, sir, that since my lamented defeat for the Presidency, I have been very sore upon the sulj ct, and am endeavoring, to heal that soreness by taking a wizard-oil bath, three hours preceding each meal. [You will not understand from this that I'am living upon the fat of the land.] I think, however, that when the oil has sufficiently saturated my person, I will, myself, be prime article to "pour upon the troubled waters." and thereby save your confound d Your obedient friend and fellow-servant, tendency in this age to appropriate the most ex-sive words of other languages, and after a whill accept them into our own; thus the word Ce-lic, which is from the Greek, alguidying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man "Can you hease me of an 'earlache?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e. "Hexceedingty," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad an 'eadache.

Headacus is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symtomatic and Isiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy. Out, Rheumatism and all febrito diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of diseases of the stomach, constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting biliour headache, of worms, c ustipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anemia and plethora are also affections which trequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous heanache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of appearently sound health, and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accribity of temper. In most anstances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the C-phalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant, are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malisnant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhoea, Dyspepwhile a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhoa, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondrasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should riceive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pilis on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expet the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.

ncian .- Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that heads Mrs. Jones —Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you at c red me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you ould send me more, so that I can have them bandy. Physicsan.—You can get them at any Druggists.
Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never iail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

Twenty Millions of Dollars Saven.—Mr. Spaldin has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue, and it is estimated that each bottle save making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars re-claimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his glue a household word, he now pro-poses to do the world still greater service by curing a WM. S. EAKIN & CO., the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if the are as good as I is Glue, Headaches will soon vania away like snow in July.

> Over Excitement, and the mental care and anx er Over Excitement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a latal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Billous Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

Great Discovery.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pili for relief of Headsche, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

Dip you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have delivered you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

O Meadack NervousHeadache All kinds of Headache.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of crocus or Sick Headacks may be prevented; and it ken at the commencement of an attack immediate lief from pain and sickness will be obtained. They seldom fail in removing the Nautea and Headact to which females are so subject.
